JURY DISAGREES IN REMEY MURDER CASE

After 114 Hours Jury Fail to Agree and are Discharged—One Juror Held Out for Clemency—Means Second Trial

Edmonton, Jan. 18.—After deliberation 114 hours and forty minutes the jury in the case of Camille Remy tried for killing Watson J. Oliver, was discharged, being unable to agree. The jury took 114 ballots. On the first ballot seven voted for murder and the last ballot resulted eleven to one for manslaughter, a minority juror holding out for the court fixing the punishment. It is said A. O. James, telephone operator held out to the end for acquittal unless the jury agreed to his terms to leave the punishment to the court, which the others would not accept.

HISTORY OF STREET RAILWAY FRANCHISE

Negotiations Which Led Up to the Agreement Which is Now Occupying Public Attention

Just at this particular time, when the street railway franchise is the all-important matter of discussion before the city council, and the ratemakers of the city, a summary history of the affairs of the company and the dealings of the company with the city and the standing of the various aldermen on the matter from time to time, as reported at the city council and public meetings during the past two years, as well as a general knowledge of the circumstances which led up to the promotion of the street railway company and the negotiation of the Tretheway deal are of interest.

Previous to the time that Mr. Tretheway in the latter part of 1903, the street way arrived on the scene, which was in the latter part of 1903, the street railway charter was held by the city of Edmonton through a board of trustees, who were the retiring council of 1894. This board fulfilled the duties of president, vice-president and directors of an incorporated company which was formed for the purpose of being the recipient of a charter granted by Act of the Dominion of Canada.

The charter itself is sweeping. It gives the company, (which, in this case, was the city) exclusive rights to operate over the city's streets and radial rights in all directions outside the city limits. It was a charter such, in fact, that had a corporation attorney been asking incorporation with as near unlimited powers as the government ever gives, he might have been taken as a model of completeness and found very little omitted.

In 1903 W. G. Tretheway, who appears on records of subsequent events as a real estate broker in Montreal, but who for many years previous had been a mining promoter in the Kootenay country in B. C., arrived on the scene. When Tretheway reached Edmonton he was not particularly seeking a street railway franchise, and in fact there is nothing in previous or subsequent events to indicate that he was in a position financially to undertake the construction of the street railway or do other than turn the franchise over to others who might be in a position to build.

When Tretheway reached Edmonton his first transaction was to take an option on what is now known as the Great estate, a piece of farm-land property adjoining the city limits on the west. Proceeding to sub-divide the estate, he placed it on the market, simultaneously in Edmonton, Toronto and Montreal. In this city it went under the name of the Great estate, which it still bears. In the east it was advertised as "Edmonton lands" and was boomed as a residential suburb of the metropolises of the Northwest.

Rumor saith that business in Edmonton lands was not as brisk as might have been desired by the promoter and then came the street railway proposition. Commencing late in the year 1903 Mr. Tretheway allowed it to be known that he was desirous of building a street railway in Edmonton, and was willing to take over the charter held by the city-company and place a deposit as forfeit to guarantee the commencement of construction within a definite and reasonable period. This proposition was canvassed among several of the leading citizens and some of them were induced to take stock in the company formed for the purpose and to take an active part in the promotion of the proposition.

EDMONTON WON PETERSON CUP

Final Game in the Series Played in the Thistle Rink Last Night

In a close and exciting game last night in the Thistle Rink, Edmonton Thistles defeated the Strathcona and are now in possession of the Peterson cup.

The rink was crowded to the doors with about as enthusiastic a crowd as ever witnessed a hockey match in Edmonton. Everybody anticipated a lively time. There was no lack of Strathcona supporters, and down along the sides the red and white was much in evidence.

As was expected, the Strathcona stickhandlers put up a great fight. They were short of Ritchie, who is enjoying a little holiday away from home, and Richards, who has not played since the game on Christmas Day, played a good game at point. Hampton was moved out to his old place at centre, and McKernan played rover. The star of their line-up was McArthur, who played the game for all it was worth from start to finish.

The line-up of the Thistles was the same as in the last game. It was an impatient and excited crowd that cheered the boys when they appeared on the ice. At 3:30 Referee R. Blain secured the puck and dropped it on the ice at centre. Deaton, as usual, pulled away with the rubber, but before he could do anything, McArthur got the block and rushed him, however, and started away again. This time he did the trick and scored in one minute.

The Strathcona forwards got in a rush from the face-off, and Kent shot, but Grady handled it. It was getting lively. Hampton tried for the nets from the centre, but it was no go. McKernan shot a swift one, but Lane cleared. Hampton got it on his stick, and scored in six minutes.

The crowd was cheering wildly. From the face-off the block came down to Banford, who lifted it right back into goal, but Humeston caught it. Kent stole the rubber from Lane, and shot, but Banford cleared. McArthur came down and scored.

The Strathconas were playing up well. Kent and McArthur shot in quick succession, but failed to send it in. Kent stole from Banford as he was about to lift, and shot but Grady was too quick for him. Powers and Dobson carried it up, and both tried. There was an offside, and the rubber was faced off in the Strathcona nets. Deaton shot it in as it touched the ice.

From the centre McArthur made a rush and shot, but it was wide. Kent also tried. It went away back on Dobson's stick, and he shot, but Kent got it and brought it up. His shot was wide. Johnston made a pretty steal and came up and almost scored. Hampton shot from mid-ice, and the play was fast around Grady for a minute. Deaton came away with a rush, and passed to Johnston, who shot. McKernan was sent to the fence, and soon after Lane tripped up Kent and got two minutes. Half time was called; score 2-2.

QUEBEC HOUSE OPENED YESTERDAY

Speech From the Throne Outlines Proposed Legislation

Quebec, Jan. 18.—In opening the Legislature this afternoon, Gov. Jetté referred to the death of Hon. Raymond Prefontaine whom he described as "A distinguished son of this Province," and continued "his largeness of view his spirit of courtesy and the clear apprehension which he had of the present needs of Canada made him a powerful influence for rapprochement between the different nationalities and for the progress and development of the country."

It is announced that the campaign for larger Provincial subsidies will be continued with the support of the other provinces.

Legislation is promised regarding colonization and lands and also regarding education for which larger grants will be given.

Measures are also to be taken for the protection of forests.

LAWSON DID NOT SUICIDE

Lethbridge, Alta. Jan. 17.—D. C. Lawson, who, it was supposed, committed suicide by drowning himself in the Belly river here a year ago, has turned up in Ogden City, Utah.

Application will be made to the Alberta Legislature for the incorporation of the Alberta Southern Railway. It is proposed to construct lines from here to Calgary; from here to the mountains; and from Macleod north-easterly to Medicine Hat. It is believed here that J. J. Hill is at the back of this scheme. It is said that the Southern Alberta Judicial district is to be divided. Lethbridge is to be made the headquarters of the new district.

Lethbridge will have a seed fair and a stock and poultry show on February 21, 22 and 23.

SERIOUS FIRE AT PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE

Old C. P. R. Freight Shed Occupied as Storehouse Burned With Large Amount of Furniture and Wooden Water Pipes

Portage la Prairie, Jan. 18.—The third serious fire in two weeks occurred here yesterday when the old C. P. R. freight shed used as a storehouse was totally destroyed. The loss will equal $11,500. The fire was discovered by Thomas Irwin driver for the Lake of the Woods Co. and an alarm was sent in from the mill. By the time the brigade arrived the flames were beyond control. The blaze was most spectacular and could be seen for miles. The firemen devoted themselves to saving the adjoining wood piles and adjoining box cars with good results, and nothing but the shed was destroyed. The building was occupied by several parties. The town water-works piping was stored in the west end and the loss is about $3,000, no insurance. The piping was of wood and threatened and burned fiercely. The centre was occupied by D. McKillop and F. Sallows as a storehouse for furniture. McKillop lost a carload valued at $1,000 with no insurance, while Sallows lost $4,000 with $1,000 insurance. The C.P.R. had a car of fence wire and other track material in the east end and their loss is $2,000. The building was valued at $15,000.

GENERAL ITEMS.

Hon. F. W. G. Haultain has left Winnipeg for Toronto.

Winnipeg building permits for the first half of the month aggregated $100,000.

James Macdonald, a C.P.R. brakeman, was knocked down at Port William in the yards by an engine. He lost a leg but may survive the shock.

The Toronto street railway has declined to extend the system to portions of the city where the York Loan Co. has heavy holdings, unless a deposit could show it would pay the company to go up Roccassvale avenue from Queen street.

Winnipeg gained a great victory over the Canadian Pacific Company, the company sending a cheque for four thousand dollars for tax's on the lands not used for railway purposes, which to date they refused to pay, denying that they were liable.

Premier Melville of B. C. in the house declared that it was not the intention of the government to bring down any railroad legislation this session.

At Brockville, Ont., an investigation of the books of Joseph Scott, who up to the time of his death was treasurer of the township of Augusta, shows a shortage of $3,000.

F. M. Scott, a well-known dairyman of Brockville has failed, with liabilities of about $10,000 with assets consisting of four cheese factories, four farms and stock and cattle. The creditors are principally farmers.

Town engineer Duncan of Port Arthur was asked by the council Saturday to resign owing to a disagreement with the aldermen. A. H. McDougall was appointed in his place. Duncan will sue for damages.

John Cobelack a German working for the Brockville lumber company in a camp at Port Arthur met with a horrible death. He was rolling logs down a slide, when the logs started down the incline without warning crushing him into jelly.

Premier Rutherford Sells $12,000 Worth of Lots in Our Sister City—Real Estate Very Active

Mr. W. Macdonald, late of B.C. who has been locating timber limits for Mr. Walters has just come into town suffering from two fractured ribs received from a fall in the bush, 75 miles west of Edmonton. He is now located at the Royal and is under the care of Dr. Keen.

Messrs. Gibbs and Gallagher have just opened a real estate office on Whyte avenue.

Mr. Bates, late of S. Q. O'Brien's lumber yard, is rapidly recovering from scarlet fever.

There is still great activity in real estate circles here. It is reported that the Hon. A. C. Rutherford has just sold four lots on Whyte avenue west of the Royal hotel for $12,000.

Messrs. Tanner, R. Walker and A. Backley are at the Royal. They came in a few days ago. Mr. Tanner deals in horses on an extensive scale.

The funeral of the late Jean Beaton of town will take place on Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. at Strathcona cemetery.

Messrs. Nilson and Brown are building a real estate office on Whyte avenue, almost touching the Dominion hotel.

Curling, Jan. 17: Sheppard, 5, vs. Baines, 13. Supple, 9, vs. Jackson, 8.

Chas. Curry, carpenter, with Mr. Stewart's sawing outfit about forty miles up the river, located two bears Sunday morning and shot brain Sr. before he could get out of his den. After getting the dead bear out, a young cub made a dash for the bush for freedom, but it too was rounded up and disposed of.

Mr. Haggard, who came up to Northern Alberta four years ago from Southern Minnesota and bought 1000 acres of land averaging about $2.50 per acre, has sold some for $8.50 per acre and now holds the balance at from $9.50 to 10.00. The current price is optimistic as regards the future of Northern Alberta.

Mr. J. Hieburn, of the Gainer staff, town, who has been under the Dr.'s care for a cut hand has been so unfortunate as to step on a board having rusty nails projecting, which pierced his shoe and penetrated the flesh. Dr. Crang is attending the injured foot.

Dr. Marion, town, came in from the south on the 3.49 train.

Mr. Johnson, hotel keeper, Millet, is registered at the Royal. Mr. Johnson has come up to dispose of his real estate while prices are good.

Mr. Silcox, registered at the Commercial. He has lately come in from Fraser's lumber camps, about fifty miles northwest of Edmonton.

—Because Rev. Dr. Horsman, pastor of the Walmer Road Baptist church Toronto does not believe that the world was made in six literal days and considers man only an animal in regard to reincarnation, he has been accused of heresy by the board of deacons and has resigned.

The second half was a little better, but there was considerable long lifting by Banford and Richards. Hampton secured from the face-off, but Powers stole from him and rushed up the side, but shot wide. McKernan got it and came down and shot. It was cleared and Johnston and Powers took it back with a rush, and by a nice bit of combination in front of the nets, Powers sent it in. From the face-off McArthur secured it and shot. Banford and Richards got in some long lifts, and once or twice the rubber went into the crowd. Dobson got it and shot, and Richards stopped. Kent made a rush and was checked by Lane. The play was fast around the Thistle net. But it was cleared, and Deaton and Dobson carried it up. They were checked hard, and Kent took the block back again. He made a swift shot and Grady stopped it. It went back to McRae, and the Thistles followed it up, and the shots went to Humeston fast for a minute. Johnston made a splendid rush and carried it right to the nets, but there was no one to help him out, and McRae took the rubber from him. There was some good combination now, the Thistle forwards carrying it up. It came back to Strathcona territory, however, with McArthur. Deaton went to the fence. Dobson came up and shot, but it was stopped. Johnston got it and scored with a clean shot. From the face-off the rubber went up to McRae, who shot from his place at cover and scored. McArthur got away with the rubber from the face-off, and was sending in some pretty hot shots, when the time-keepers sounded the bell. Score, 4 to 3 for the Thistles.

The scores, first half: Edmonton, Deaton, one minute; Strathcona, Hampton, six; Strathcona, McArthur, six; Edmonton, Deaton, ten minutes; Second half: Edmonton, Powers four minutes; Edmonton, Johnston, seventeen minutes; Strathcona, McRae, five minutes.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OF BUSINESS LIFE

Ross Bros. Celebrate Their Anniversary by a Banquet to Their Employees

Ross Bros. celebrated the 25th anniversary of their business existence in Edmonton last night with a banquet to their employees at the Queen's hotel, at which there were present the entire staff, to the number of fifty.

The banquet marks a quarter-century post in the history of an establishment which has been a part of the commercial development of Edmonton. As told by Mr. Fred Ross at the festive board last night, the firm started in business in this city when Edmonton was young and outside of the Hudson's Bay it is the oldest firm in business in the city today. From a very modest start in the pioneer days the firm has prospered as Edmonton has prospered, and grown as the city has grown, until today it is recognized by the trade as one of the greatest, if not the greatest, hardware firms in Western Canada. It is the custom of the company to give an annual banquet to the employees, and from a very small gathering in the early days, this has grown yearly until today it counts half a hundred participants.

The gathering last night was one of marked jollity and good-feeling. One characteristic of the Ross Bros. establishment is the spirit of "bon homie" which exists between the management and the employees, and this spirit was very much in evidence last night. The supper prepared by mine host, Hetu, of the Queen's was a very inviting repast, and after the viands had been carefully stowed away and followed by a little something else, a program of musical selections and vocal exercises was sprung on the company which called for something from every department of the stage. "Father Quinn, as the irreverent denizens of the tin-shop have dubbed the assistant manager, made the hit of the evening as an after dinner speaker, exuding a brand of wit that would have done honor to Chaucer's Depew in his gaily dappled before the equitable scandal.

Mr. Hay, of the tin-shop department, proved that besides being a competent tinker he is a first class improviser. Mr. Hay's case, however, is explained by the fact that he comes from Ottawa, where oratory permeates the ozone to an unparalleled extent, and he probably contracted the speech-making accomplishments by inoculation.

Mr. Howard Stutchbury, although not a member of the staff, favored the company with a few vocal selections which were fully appreciated by the company.

The instrumental selections of Messrs. McKnight and Baldwin were particularly well received and a song by Mr. Perfect brought a vociferous applause.

Mr. Forsyth of the wholesale department filled the position of chairman with great success.

It was about towards two o'clock when the company finally adjourned by singing Old Lang Syne. The following is the toast list and program, every number of which was answered to fittingly:

Pharaoh Cigar.

As soon as it arrives at my factory I place it in humidors built for the purpose. The tobacco is kept here for from two to three years at a temperature and humidity which as nearly as possible correspond with the climatic conditions of the Island of Cuba.

This treatment thoroughly matures the leaf, removes the injurious "gum," and develops the rich flavor of the tobacco.

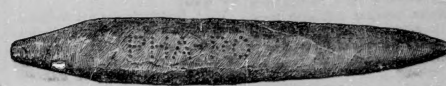

This is one reason why my Pharaoh cigar has so delightful an aroma, and leaves a pleasant taste in the mouth.

I carefully watch every step taken in the production of my Pharaoh cigar so I secure a steady, even combustion and a cool, sweet smoke.

BAD JUDGMENT OR REVENGE

Sir Mackenzie Bowell is the nemesis of the Federal Opposition. He is always "battling in" and spoiling things. Sir Mackenzie's particular line is history. He has lived a long time and possesses a tenacious memory, albeit it is a trifle warped. It is a vigorous memory too and persists in pouring the new wine of Conservative expediency into the old bottles of Conservative history with usually disastrous consequences. Not an aspiring leader can rise above the horizon but the veteran must "shoulder" his crutch and show how fields were won when a boy; not a new drift can be given to the party policy but the "Old man" recalls some embarrassing instances of a time when the opposite course was found the easiest. Even party disasters seem to have something of the morbid actions of a long-gone sorrow and just when the scenery has been arranged for an "entire change of play" Sir Mackenzie touches off an explosive reminiscence which fills the air with an obscuring and suffocating fog.

The latest performance of Sir Mackenzie in this direction is a lengthy interview given a representative of the Toronto News on the anniversary of his birthday in which he discusses the Manitoba school question of 1896. The general tenor of the Honorable gentleman's remarks may be gathered from the following paragraph—

"Yes," said Sir Mackenzie, with a reminiscent smile "we have seen many changes but nothing has transpired to lead me to the conviction that I was wrong then, and if the same reasons existed again, and the Manitoba school question was again before the country, I should follow the same course and adopt the same policy that I did in 1896."

The political history of Canada during the past decade is not pleasant reading for the Opposition party at the best of times and of all the chapters that dealing with the Manitoba school question is the least enjoyable. And of all occasions when the recital of this incident would be calculated to make Mr. Borden and his party ridiculous the present is the appointed time. The coronation of Manitoba is one of the bug-bears of the opposition and to have this spectre recalled when Mr. Borden and his friends are endeavoring to talk down the past and disguise themselves in the habiliments of Provincial Rights is akin to producing the family skeleton at a festival. Whether it be the misguided judgment of a well meaning veteran or the revenge of the victim of a "nest of traitors" the reminiscence of Sir Mackenzie is likely to contribute little to the peace of mind or the political advantage of the Opposition and its leaders.

HISTORY OF STREET RAILWAY FRANCHISE

For the 1904 council, the street railway proposition was never a factor in municipal politics, and even at that election it was only incidentally alluded to.

The first time that the street railway proposition comes into light in municipal reports of the city's affairs is in January of 1904. On the 16th of that month there was held a special meeting of the city council at which there were present Aldermen Grier, Picard, May and Rosa, and Alderman Cushing in the chair.

The matter was brought to the attention of the council by Mr. J. H. Morris, who was present at the meeting. He gave his reasons for supporting the granting of the franchise to W. G. Tretheway, J. T. Blowsy, who was also present at the meeting, stated that he did not believe that the city could build the street railway itself, and that in order to get construction commenced at once he considered that the council should give over the franchise to Tretheway providing that the city was protected in its rights. In this view Alderman Picard concurred.

The council was asked if it had the power to grant a charter without first submitting the proposition to the people and the chairman, Alderman Cushing, assured the delegation that it had, but that the members would be unwilling to do so without first submitting the agreement to the people for ratification.

The following resolution, the first action taken on the now celebrated Ingalls deal was then passed by the council, all the members present voting in favor of it: "That the street railway franchise, now held by the town of Edmonton be granted to W. G. Tretheway and others whom he represents or any others, provided that such terms as will safeguard the town's interests and the interests of the citizens in the several quarters of the town can be arranged."

A copy of the resolution was forwarded to W. G. Tretheway, who was in Montreal at the time. Mayor Short was also in the east and therefore not present at the meeting.

The next appearance of the railway proposition before the council was on the 26th day of January, ten days later. Mayor Short was still in the east and Ald. Cushing again in the chair. There were present besides, Aldermen Rosa, Fraser, Grier and Picard. W. G. Tretheway appeared before the council and presented a draft agreement between the city and his company. The agreement provided for the construction of two miles of track within 18 months, a $5,000 forfeiture deposit, exemption from taxation within the city limits, an option of purchase by the city within fifteen years, and 25 per cent. of the net earnings to be paid into the city by the company.

Councillors Cushing and May were appointed a committee to act with the city solicitor and discuss the agreement.

This committee held its first meeting a week later, on February 3. In the meantime a sentiment favorable to granting the street railway franchise to Tretheway was springing up, principally among the business men of the city.

On February 12, a special meeting of the council was held to discuss the agreement, but nothing definite was done.

Next evening, the 13th, the council, at another special meeting, approved of a draft agreement arrived at by the council, committee and W. G. Tretheway.

On February 19, the Bulletin laid down its policy with relation to the street railway charter, from which policy it has never varied, although at that time only a minority of the ratepayers agreed with the Bulletin.

In an editorial of that date it was pointed out that the franchise was a valuable asset which should not be given away; that the agreement should not be thrust upon the citizens hurriedly.

As such agreements frequently meant something entirely different from what they appeared to mean, and should not be accepted without a careful scrutiny.

The Bulletin took a very strong stand at that time against including the radial charter in the agreement, pointing out that while it might not do any particular or permanent injury to give a private corporation the right to build a couple of miles of street railway within the city, there could not be anything gained by going farther. The Bulletin said at that time—

"It appears that the company acquires all rights of the town in its street and suburban system, but only enters into agreement with the town in respect of the street system."

The charter was secured by the in the first place for suburban rather than street purposes. The need of holding it for suburban purposes is as great now as was the need of procuring it for these purposes. Whatever we do with the street railway part of the proposition we should not let go the suburban portion."

This editorial, published in the Bulletin two years ago, pointed out the very great danger which has now materialized; that the agreement might not mean what it was supposed to mean and that the suburban charter, once given away, might be very hard to get back.

The text of the agreement first arrived at between the city and company was printed in a special edition of the Bulletin, but as this original agreement was afterwards modified as to terms, it is not necessary to examine it at length.

The first public meeting to discuss the street railway franchise was held in the Sandison Hall on Monday, evening, February 22nd, 1904, and the hall was packed to the doors, a lively discussion ensuing. Alderman Cushing acted as chairman of the meeting and N. D. Beck, K. C., the city solicitor, read the provisional agreement and spoke in favor of it. He said that the city was not in favor of municipal ownership and consequently arrangements must be made with a company if the railway was to be built. He said that the charter for the radial system was not of any serious value as a company could secure similar powers at any time from the Territorial assembly or Dominion Parliament.

C. de W. MacDonald, the crown prosecutor took a very strong stand against the agreement and moved a resolution declaring it imprudent and such as the city should not enter into.

C. W. Cross also strenuously opposed the agreement. He said that it would be great mistake at that time to enter into an agreement which would prejudice the city's chances permanently for a municipal owned system. He also pointed out that it was a foolish and absurd thing to give over to any company a radial system permitting them to bring their cars into the city over the city's streets, as this rendered the city end of the charter valueless, the company having all it wanted under the radial.

W. A. Giesbach was out for municipal ownership of the system, straight, and took an unqualified stand on those lines. He said that the city should not enter into any agreement with anyone, but should wait until the time arrives for doing so and then build the line itself.

John R. Boyle was also against the agreement. He said it amounted to nothing more nor less than an option taken by the company on the future of the town. He said, there was no urgent necessity for a street railway. When the necessity arrived he thought the city would be quite as capable of dealing with it and building the road as Mr. Tretheway or anyone else.

Dr. McNeil also spoke against the agreement.

Those speaking in favor of the agreement at that time, besides the city solicitor, was the present mayor, Chas. May, Mr. J. H. Kennedy, his law partner, Mr. Dawson, Alderman Grieron, H. Baker and Donald Ross.

Mr. Dawson said that those who opposed the agreement were opposing progress in Edmonton. That the street railway would build up the city and that the contention that it was a scheme to boom real estate was not valid.

Finally an amendment was put, requiring that the agreement, before being accepted by the city should be submitted to the ratepayers for endorsement. This motion was carried by a large majority.

On February 26th, at a conference of the council committee, Messrs. Cushing, May and the city solicitor, with the company, it was decided to amend the agreement originally submitted before placing it before the people.

The original agreement called for a $25,000 deposit, forfeitable at the rate of $5000 a year for five years, in case construction was not commenced. It was also considered to be loosely drawn with regard to the forfeiture of the charter.

The change made provided for the payment in its present form, requiring a $10,000 deposit, forfeitable in two years, and requiring a surrender of the charter.

The voting on the question took place on Thursday, March 16th, 1904, on the proposal to turn the charter both city and radial, over to the company represented by W. G. Tretheway. For many days previous to the voting, the franchise was the topic of the hour and no question of civic policy has ever aroused greater interest. The vote was canvassed by both sides thoroughly, but the street car side had the better of it in point of organization.

The agreement was endorsed by an overwhelming majority, 517 votes being cast of which 359 were for the company.

agreement and 152 against, leaving a plurality of 207 in favor. There were six spoiled ballots.

Then came the historic council meeting at which the agreement was signed. This was by far the most important action in connection with the franchise deal, and as this meeting is more frequently referred to than any other with regard to the deal, the report of it as published in the Bulletin next day is herewith given in full: "The last, for the present, chapter of the street railway agreement discussion took place in the council chamber last evening. The full council solicitors Beck and Kennedy and a number of citizens were present. The result of it all was that the street railway agreement has been passed, although only three councillors, May, Picard and Ross favored it. Councillors Cushing and Grieron opposed the passing of the agreement in its present form, but were willing to waive their personal objections on account of the recent vote in favor of it. Mayor Short absolutely refused to be a party to the agreement and left the chair. Councillor Cushing was appointed acting mayor, and the agreement was put and carried. Councillor Fraser alone voting against it. The question of signing the agreement then came up. The mayor had refused to sign, acting Mayor Cushing stated that he would prefer not to sign. On motion of Councillors Picard and Ross Councillor May was requested to put his signature to the agreement on behalf of the council. Councillor May did so. Mr. Short held it for a revision of the agreement, as the company by the agreement at the end of thirty years retain rights which will enable them to compete against our municipal undertakings. J. K. Kennedy, solicitor for the company absolutely refused to hear of the making of any changes in the agreement, and what was up to last night the Edmonton Street Railway Charter, has been signed away.

and is now the property of W. G. Tretheway and his associates.

The discussion was started by the secretary treasurer reading a letter from J. K. Kennedy, solicitor for W. J. Tretheway and his associates. Mr. Kennedy pointed out that the agreement had been approved of at a previous council meeting, that it had been reviewed by the people and that the council had promised to call a special meeting for the signing of the agreement. This had not yet been done, and Mr. Kennedy requested that the agreement be at once executed. At a council meeting a number had been appointed, to interview Mr. Kennedy and ask for certain amendments to the agreement to protect the town's interests in certain matters of vital importance, which had been overlooked.

Mr. Short said that it was not in his power to make the desired change, and on being asked to communicate with Mr. Tretheway on the subject, absolutely refused to do so. Proceeding, the mayor stated that, besides himself, three of the councillors had set out their strong personal disapproval of the agreement, giving away such a valuable franchise on the present terms, and that at least two of them intended voting for the agreement in view of its ratification by such overwhelming majority of the ratepayers. He has made a close study of municipal ownership for the past two years and contended that the town was taking a backward step in giving away its valuable railway franchise. He believed that the agreement was not one that the town could safely enter into. The recent public vote was not a legal one according to the ordinance as it now stands. The agreement is one the purport of which is very far-reaching. It recalls the stand as heretofore taken regarding municipal ownership. He did not think it advisable to allow the company to compete with the municipal electric light plant as granted by the charter.

He warned the councillors that they could not safely, fairly, and in the best interests of the ratepayers enter into this agreement. His responsibility to the ratepayers forced him to take a strong stand opposing it. The agreement blinds prosperity for all time to come. He from a public-spirited standpoint would have to refuse positively to sign the agreement or be a party to it; and again warning the council of the great consequences to the city's best interests which would result from a step they were about to take, he asked permission to leave the chair.

"Councillor May stated that he believed the people wanted the agreement passed and he would abide by the will of the ratepayers.

Mayor Short stated that the matter rested with conscience. He proceeded to strongly put himself on record as being in favor of a fair agreement, and stated that this was all the ratepayers asked for in their vote. He feared that the ratepayers would before long regret their action. The mayor then left the chair. It was moved by Councillors May and Picard that Councillor Cushing take the chair. Councillor May then moved the following resolution: "That the council execute the agreement with Mr. Tretheway, providing for an electric tramway system for Edmonton and suburbs, as ratified by ballot of the ratepayers. Councillor Ross seconded the motion. Councillor Grieron took the opportunity to say that while personally he was strongly opposed to the agreement as it stands, the only thing to do since the large popular majority for the agreement was to vote in favor of it.

"Councillor Cushing stated that the council had endeavored to safeguard the town's interests. In taking up the matter they had received the initiative from the board of trade, and they, the leading business men of the town, would have to share the responsibility with the council. Personally he opposed the agreement as it stands and had voted against it. He had wanted modifications, but these had been refused.

"The vote was then taken, Councillor May, Picard, Ross and Grieron voting in favor of it, and Councillor Fraser voting against it.

"Bylaw No. 263 to provide for the execution of the agreement and authorizing Councillor May and Secretary-Treasurer G. J. Kinniard to sign on behalf of the town was then given three readings and finally passed.

"Mr. Kennedy, on behalf of Mr. Tretheway, thanked the council and acting mayor for their kindness in the matter and hoped that the contract would be a blessing to both of them. The agreement handing over the charter to Mr. Tretheway and his associates was then signed."

From that time forward very little was heard regarding the construction of the street railway, and up until immediately previous to the time limit of two years there was little or nothing done. In the meantime the management of the company passed, W. G. Tretheway relinquishing control to R. P. Inglis who still represents the company.

The subsequent events, as to how Inglis and his company hauled gravel onto Namoo avenue last winter and

SPORTS

HOCKEY

The management of the Thistle Hockey club are making arrangements for a trip to the team, which will include Regina and Moose Jaw, returning on the C.N.R. taking in towns along the C.N.R. wherever a game can be arranged for.

Eddie Sibbald who has been up north for the past year, is expected to arrive home tonight. Eddie was captain of the Thistles last season and was a tower of strength on the forward line. He will likely appear in practice next week, and it is possible that he may catch a place on the line-up for some of the games.

The Calgary Brewing and Malting Co. cup will likely be the next for competition. This cup is held at present by the Thistles, and as yet no challenges have been received by the management. The cup is presented by the Calgary Brewing and Malting Co.
for competition between hockey associations in Alberta. The trustees are A. Brown, Dr. Strong, and H. W.
Campbell of Edmonton. Following are the rules and regulations under which the cup games are played.

CONDITIONS

1. The winners to give bond in the sum of $200.00 with sufficient sureties for the return of the cup, in good order when required by the trustees.
2. Each winning team to have at their own cost, engraved on a silver shield fitted on the cup for that purpose, the name of the team and the year in which the cup is won.
3. The cup shall remain the challenge cup from year to year, and will only become the property of any club or team when won three years in succession.
4. Should one of the trustees resign or otherwise drop out, the remaining trustees shall nominate and appoint a substitute, who shall have the same powers as if he had been originally appointed.

CHALLENGES AND MATCHES
5. All challenges shall be made in writing, in duplicate, one copy of which shall be sent or delivered to the trustees and the other to the challenged club.

6. Challenges from clubs are recognized by the trustees from all senior clubs in Alberta only, and in the order received.

7. When a challenge is accepted the trustees desire the two competing clubs to arrange a mutual agreement all terms of the contest such as choice of date, rink, division of gate money, selection of officials, etc. the trustees wish to interfere in any way if it can be avoided.

8. Subject to these conditions the cup shall be awarded according to the result of either one match, or the best two out of three, or the club scoring the majority of goals in the two games only, as may be mutually agreed upon by the two competing clubs.

9. The contests shall take place in the home city.

10. No second challenge shall be recognized in any one season from the same association or club.

11. No one shall be allowed to play on a team for this cup unless he has been a bona fide resident of the town for which he plays, for at least three months immediately preceding the match.

(a) In case of any doubt as to qualifications of any member or members of any team competing, the decision of the trustees shall be final and conclusive.

(b) The trustees demand from the captain or any member or members of a competing team a sworn declaration as to the qualifications of any or all members of such team.

12. Any team wishing to protest a game may do so by delivering or mailing their protest, which must be in writing, to one of the trustees not later than twelve hours after the game has been played.

13. In the event of failure of any two competing clubs to agree upon any of the terms or conditions of the contest, the trustees shall have full and absolute power and authority to decide the same as they may deem just and reasonable having regard to the other fixtures and circumstances attending any case.

14. Any expenses incurred by reason of the appointment of any official or officials by the trustees, shall be paid and borne by the two competing clubs in equal shares.

15. In the event of failure to agree as to the division of gate money, the net amount shall be divided equally between the two competing clubs.

SUNLIGHT SOAP

Wash oilcloths and lineoleums with warm water and Sunlight Soap, rinse clean and wipe dry. The colors will be preserved and the surface unharmed. Common soaps fade the colors and injure the surface. Sunlight Soap cleans, freshens and preserves oilcloths and lineoleums.

Sunlight Soap washes clothes white without injury to the most delicate fabrics, or to the hands, for it contains nothing that can injure either clothes or hands.

Sunlight Soap is better than other soaps, but is best when used in the Sunlight way (follow directions).

Equally good with hard or soft water.

THE ANNUAL BONSPIEL

The annual bonspiel of the Edmonton curling club will be held on Monday, Jan. 22nd and following days.
The opening games commence at eight o'clock on Monday evening.
Indications are that this will be the greatest bonspiel that Edmonton curlers have ever held. Arrangements are about completed for the carrying out of the affair and the bonspiel committee have spared no effort to ensure its success.

The prize list is larger and more attractive than ever. There are at all seven events, and besides the trophies that were competed for last year there are a great many other prizes.

There will be rinks present from all over the province. Word has been received from eight or nine rinks to the effect that they will be on hand to take part in the spell on Monday. Two rinks are coming from Calgary, and possibly three will put in an appearance. These rinks from Windsor will be here, and also three or four from our sister city, Strathcona. The opening up of the C. N. R. has given an opportunity to curlers from points that were not represented in previous years, to visit Edmonton and compete in the grand spell. There will be a rink from Battledford and a rink from Vegreville and these will arrive in the city on Saturday evening. For Saskatchewan will send along three or four rinks. The bonspiel committee have reason to hope that Banff will be represented, also. In a letter the Scotchmen from the popular resort expressed the desire to visit Edmonton instead of their usual trip to Nelson, and it is possible that they may send along a rink or two.

And soon the streets of the city will be thronged with enthusiastic spectators with their brooms, the boys will be "swooning far up" and the curled game will be in full swing.
The visiting Scotchmen will be romantic entertained while in the city, and complete arrangements have been made to give them a good time.
The general public are especially invited to be present at all the games and take as much enjoyment out of the bonspiel as they can get. No admission fee whatever is charged, and the citizens are free to go and come as they please.

Both the curling and skating rink will be used for the bonspiel. In the curling rink there will be three sheets of ice in use and in the skating rink four sheets of ice will be opened. The entries must all be in by Monday evening at seven. If there are more entries than can find accommodation in the Thistle rink sheets will be opened on the rinks of Alberta College and the High school.
The waiting rooms in the rink will be kept heated for the accommodation of visitors and spectators. The visiting curlers will have their headquarters in the curling rink.

declared their intention to commence construction at once, now the $10,000 deposit was declared forfeit and how legitimate came to the council at its last meeting, are all of such recent occurrence as to be fresh in the minds of the citizens and hardly need refurbishing here.

With regard to the agreement there are a few clauses which are necessary to an understanding of the case.
Clauses 1, 2 and 3 provide for the construction and define the company's rights. Clause 4 is the forfeiture clause. Here they are:

1 The Municipal Council of the Town of Edmonton, in so far as it has power to do so, does hereby consent that the Company may lay out, construct, maintain and operate a single or double track street railway, with all necessary switches, side-tracks and turnouts for the passage of cars, carriages and other vehicles upon and along such streets of the Town of Edmonton as are hereinafter specified or as regards which provision is hereinafter made, and to carry passengers and freight thereon by the motive power (other than steam) hereinafter provided for; and to establish works to supply electricity for such power and to construct erect and maintain all necessary buildings, machinery, appliances and conveniences for the purposes of such railway and works including the erection of poles upon any and all streets upon which the company shall, with the consent of the municipal council, run its railway; PRO-VIDED that this grant of the consent of the Municipal Council is made upon and subject to the terms, provisions, conditions, and restrictions hereinafter set forth.

CONSTRUCTION

2 The actual work of the construction of the railway within the municipality shall be bona-fide commenced by the 1st day of June, 1905, and shall be bona-fide continued with all reasonable speed, so that by the 1st day of September, 1905, there shall have been actually laid down within the municipality a track of at least two miles in length on the street or streets hereinafter designated and within the same limit of time there shall be street cars actually running thereon in such manner that a bona-fide street car service shall be in ordinary operation according to the requirements hereinafter set forth.

3 The two miles of railway here-before provided for shall be so constructed that it shall run along Jasper avenue northerly from Jasper avenue or Main street to Twelfth street, River Lot 12 and along Jasper avenue or Main street westerly a sufficient distance to complete the said distance of two miles.

4 The sum of $10,000 deposited with the Secretary-Treasurer of the Municipality as a security and guarantee that the company will commence and put in operation the lines of track specified in Section 2 and 3 and in Section 5 hereof within the time therein respectively specified.

In the event of the company failing to construct or put in operation the track specified in Sections 2 and 3 and in section 5 hereof within the times therein respectively specified, then in case of default in either case (time being of the essence) the Company shall,
as liquidated and ascertained damages,
1 Forfeit to the Municipality the said $10,000 less accrued interest
as hereinafter specified.

2 Forfeit all the rights, privileges and powers granted by this agreement.

3 Assign and make over to the municipality or its nominees all its rights, powers, and privileges under and by virtue of the Company's charter.
